Dear Admiral Turner:

On behalf of the officers of Foreign Area Officer Course 1-77, I would like to express our sincere appreciation for the Central Intelligence Agency's series of excellent presentations during our recent Interdepartmental Agency Field Trip.

From all reports the day spent with your people was unanimously considered to be the highlight of the week's events. Perhaps the two elements which most impressed our officers were the candor and enthusiasm of all the briefers and the manner in which the day was organized. The wives of the officers likewise were impressed by the warm reception and extremely informative presentation which they received from

According to my staff, special thanks are due [redacted] for their efforts in arranging the program. The smoothness with which the day's activities came together provided ample evidence of the time and effort put into it by these two professionals.

In closing, let me reemphasize our gratitude for your personal support of the educational mission of the Institute for Military Assistance. The interest in our educational mission displayed by the Agency adds considerable credibility to our program.

Respectfully,

Robert C. Kingston

Dear Admiral Turner:

During the period of 3-7 April 1977 a group of officers from our resident Foreign Area Officer Course and accompanying faculty and staff of the Institute for Military Assistance will be in Washington on our Interdepartmental Agency Field Trip. These officers are being prepared for a variety of politico-military assignments both in the United States and abroad.

As in the past I would like to respectfully request the assistance of your office in arranging for a series of briefings for these officers on the Central Intelligence Agency. Previous classes have singled out the CIA portion of the itinerary as the most enlightening and informative, and I would like to afford this present class the same opportunity to hear about the Agency's vital role in the national intelligence effort. A member of my staff has already contacted your Office of Training about suitable dates and tentatively identified 7 April. With your approval I would like to include the CIA presentation in our itinerary for 7 April from 0900 to 1500 hours. If these arrangements are convenient for you, I know the officers would very much appreciate hearing your comments on the present status of the intelligence community.

In order to guarantee that our week in Washington is not all work, we have planned an informal cocktail party at the Fort McNair Officers' Open Mess on 5 April from 1930 to 2130 hours. We would be honored if you and Mrs. Turner would join us and other Washington area friends of the Institute for a few relaxing hours of good company and spirited conversation.

If you should have any questions about either this request or the invitation, please have a member of your staff contact Colonel Raymond Maladowitz at AC 919 396-7809/2415.

Dear General Kingston:

My colleagues and I are looking forward to having the members of the Foreign Area Officers Course and accompanying faculty and staff of the Institute for Military Assistance visit us at Langley on Thursday, 7 April, from 0900 to 1500 hours. I have heard only the most complimentary things about earlier visits here and know I will learn to value the goodwill that has developed between our two institutions. These exchanges are as profitable to us in enlarging our understanding of the many contributions of the military services in foreign affairs as they are to your officers in increasing their awareness of the role of intelligence.

Mrs. Turner and I appreciate your thoughtful invitation to the cocktail party at Fort McNair on 5 April but are not certain whether our increasingly complicated schedule will enable us to attend. It would be a delight for us to meet the Foreign Area Officers and the Institute faculty and staff. I especially hope to have the opportunity to meet with you and catch up on the work of the Institute.

If at all possible, I will participate in your briefing program here at Langley. Should other demands intervene, however, I am sure that one of my Deputies, Mr. Knoche or [redacted] will stand in for me with their usual skill.

Our Special Programs Officer, [redacted] of the Office of Training, is, I understand, in touch with the Institute about arrangements for your visit. She can be reached if you have any questions on [redacted]

Yours sincerely,

/s/ Stansfield Turner
